ST. JAMES CATHEDRAL WILL BE OPEN FOR PRIVATE PRAYER 5.30AM

Saint Mark founded the first church in Alexandria and was slain by pagans of that city.

For years his tomb was a shrine for the faithful but, according to tradition, in 815 a Venetian trader buying wares in Alexandria obtained the body of Saint Mark and brought it to Venice. It remains there today, in the great cathedral in the city of which he is patron.

On this day in Hungary, people go in procession to have the fields of wheat blessed and on the return home each carries a sprout of wheat, which has been blessed so that "fog shall not strangle, hail shall not destroy, storm shall not trample, fire shall not consume the only hope of the people."

Although the Cathedral does not have recognition of St Mark, we do have our very own special St Mark's church

Memorial Rood for St. James' Cathedral.

THE question of the providing for a suitable memorial in the Cathedral was carefully considered by the Chapter in 1917, and I was requested by them to procure designs for a Rood. The accompanying sketch shows the Rood which is now under construction, and is to be suspended from the roof of the Cathedral, at the entrance to the Choir. It is being made from the designs of the wellknown architects whose names appear on the sketch.

The Rood is the figure of Christ crucified, together with His Mother and the disciple St. John on either side below the cross. The figure at the bottom is that of St. Mary Magdalene. The Rood usually stands upon a screen, as in the very beautiful example the Hobart Cathedral, but in a wide building sures a bunging Rood is more suitable.

The Rood is incended to be a memorial to all the sons of the Church from this Diocese that gave their lives in the Great War. Their names and particulars will be inscribed on sheets of vellum in a book durably and beautifully bound, which will be placed on a desk in some convenient part of the Cathedral where it can be inspected. The book will be of such materials as will make it likely to last hundreds of years. It will also serve to record the names of others whose memory should be preserved in the Cathedral.

It is believed that those who lost their sons or brothers in the war will wish to subscribe according to their means to this memorial. The total cost will be between f400 and f500. The sum of f290 has so far been contributed.

Subscriptions may be sent to the Sub-dean or the Registrar, and will be acknowledged in the "Northern Churchman."

ROOD CROSS

A magnificent piece of ecclesiastical woodwork has recently been completed in Sydney by Messrs. Frederick W. Tod and Co., of Dawson-street, South Sydney. This takes the form of a memorial rood which has been executed for St. James' Cathedral, Townsville, in memory of the men and women of that diocese who gave their lives in the great war. The rood, which is constructed in solid oak, stands 10ft high and is 6ft 6in in width. Roughly 400 superficial feet of oak have been used in its construction. It weighs approximately half a ton. The attendant figures with the Cross represent the Saviour, and, on either side, the Virgin Mary and St. John.

At the foot of the cross is the figure of St. Mary Magdalene. The figures, the three larger ones standing about 4ft 8in. in height, were executed by a firm of English sculptors, and the whole design is also that of an English firm. The figures are most magnificently wrought, and their expression is extraordinarily natural, that of the Saviour being most striking in its compassion. The ornamental and general constructional work has been very faithfully carried out by Messrs. Tod and Co. The cost of the rood is something over £400. Although usually placed above the chancel screen this particular rood will, when in position, hang from the beams on strong chains. At present, by arrangement with the Rev. Clive Statham, it is housed in Christ Church, George-street, where it will remain until next Sunday to enable those interested to see it.

The cross was sensitively restored by Stan Moses in 1984 Timber & Metal | Art of Stan Moses (jimdosite.com)

"The reason that there is one different rosette on the cross, is that there were 2 crosses brought out from England at the same time and one is somewhere else in Australia with one odd rosette."

After consultation with Paul Scott, (worldcathedrals (ipage.com) who has photographed nearly every large church and cathedral in Australia, this does not seem to be the case as he says that our Rood Cross is very unique.

Can anyone prove or disprove the myth?

Why put an odd rosette on the centre arm of the cross rather than the top or bottom?
