A Prayer for the Queen's Platinum Jubilee:

Gracious God, We give you thanks for our Royal Patron, Queen Elizabeth. She has set before us a wonderful example of integrity, dignity and compassion for all humanity. We ask for your blessing on her as she continues to serve you and her people as her royal duty. We pray for her family as they support her in various roles. We ask this in the name of your Son, Jesus Christ. Amen

The Cathedral's Mission to Seafarer's 90th anniversary window shows Mary holding a ship within a globe, symbolising the world around which the seafarers journey. From the base of the globe flows the water, falling in a decorative pattern on Mary's girdle to the logo of the Mission to Seafarers, linking the ship to the worldwide seafaring society.

The lower panel displays the logo of the MtS supported by nautical symbols; while below is a depiction of Castle Hill from Cleveland Bay, with modern day shipping on the waters in the Port of Townsville.

July 22nd - We welcome the Cathedral School of St Anne and St James for their Founders Day Service

- The Cathedral School of St Anne & St James began life in 1917 as a humble girls' school with seventy-one students. Originally called St Anne's Church of England Girls' School, the campus consisted of a single building in the middle of Townsville city – where the City Council now stands.
- Over these past 100 years, the school has thrived. It has weathered the Great War, the Great Depression and a total evacuation during World War II; it found its way in new territory after outgrowing its campus and again after farewelling its beloved founding Sisters, and it has adapted fluidly to the changing tides in education and society.

Our Story - The Cathedral School

Our Cathedral window of St James is from 1907 and is dedicated in memory of the late Mr James Gordon, who was actively associated with the early history of Townsville, and especially with the beginning of church work in the city.

Our Cathedral bell tower supports a white stone statue of Saint James the Great, (affectionally known as "Slim Jim") which was erected in 1960 on the completion of the Cathedral. The sculptor was Erwin A. Guth who was born in Saarbrücken, Germany in 1926. He studied at the Berlin Academy of Fine arts during the Second World War (1940-42) and was a teacher of sculpture at the Ministry of Public Worship and Instruction of the Saar from 1950-1953 before migrating to Australia in 1954.

The 1956 Torch

Start date: 2 November 1956, Olympia (Greece)

End date: 22 November 1956, Main Stadium, Melbourne (Australia)

First torchbearer: Dionyssios Papathanassopoulos

Last torchbearer: Ronald William "Ron" Clarke, Olympic participant in athletics (1964, 1968), bronze medallist in Tokyo 1964.

Number of torchbearers: 3,181: 350 in Greece, 2,831 in Australia.

Recruitment of torchbearers: To qualify, the participants had to be able to run 1 mile (1.61 km) in 7.5 minutes. For the Organising Committee, one athlete from each sport had to participate. The relay was not open to women or professional sportsmen.

Distance: ~20,470km in total (air travel included): 4,912km by land, including 354km in Greece

Countries visited: Greece, Turkey, Iraq, Pakistan, India, Thailand, Singapore, Indonesia, Australia

Torch Details

Description: The torch was modelled on that of London 1948. The handle ends in a ring, and the upper part, in the shape of a cauldron, presents the Olympic rings three times. It bears the inscription: "XVI Olympiad 1956: Olympia Melbourne".

Colour: Silver

Height: 47cm with burner, 40.5cm without

Composition: Metal, aluminium

Fuel: Hexamine in tablet form with additional naphthalene and a special igniting material. The combustion duration is 15 minutes.

Designer / Manufacturer: Ralph Lavers / Waco Ltd.

- "Carrying the Torch 1956 Melbourne Olympic Games by Marcus Marsden

The torch weighed one point eight kilograms, and it felt very heavy after a mile held at arm's length. If the runners held it too close to their bodies, sparks blew in their faces.

- The convoy commander held a roving commission with the added duty of moving ahead when possible to towns where civic receptions were to be held, to finalize details and at the same time present commemorative medals to civic dignitaries in appreciation of the part they played in the organization of the Relay.
- For several weeks before the arrival of the flame, very heavy rain had fallen over most of the route, and in the northern section flooding was serious, roads and bridges being under water. The convoy was able to continue except over one river, where arrangements had to be made to carry the flame and vehicles by train over a higher bridge. This involved delay, as the trucks had to be loaded in pitch darkness, but the over-all loss of time, 65 minutes, was soon recovered.
- Shortly afterwards flooding caused a further setback, necessitating a long detour through uninhabited country which added an extra 22 miles. As it was impossible to arrange for extra runners many volunteered to run twice, but despite this, and the very unpleasant conditions, the 257 miles of this stretch were run in exactly the time allowed for the original route of 235 miles. Civic receptions were planned in all major centres and times varying up to half an hour were allotted. The Organizers had to outline procedure and make arrangements for preserving the flame. In most cases, a special urn was built. Great welcomes awaited the flame along the entire route. In many towns, business ceased, everyone packing the main streets to attend the ceremonies and watch the flame go by. Day or night the enthusiasm remained.

Toc H is an international Christian movement. The name is an abbreviation for Talbot House, 'Toc' signifying the letter T in the signals spelling alphabet used by the British Army in World War I. A soldiers' rest and recreation centre named Talbot House was founded in December 1915 in Belgium. It aimed to promote Christianity and was named in memory of Gilbert Talbot, son of Edward Talbot, then Bishop of Winchester, who had been killed at Hooze in July 1915. The founders were Gilbert's brother Neville, then a senior army chaplain, and the Rev Philip Clayton. Talbot House was an "Every Man's Club", where all soldiers were welcome, regardless of rank. It was "an alternative for the 'debauched' recreational life of the town".<sup>1</sup>

The original building at Poperinghe, Belgium has been maintained and redeveloped as a museum. Branches of Toc H were established in many countries around the world. An Australian branch was formed in Victoria in 1925 by the Rev Herbert Hayes

Toc H members sought to ease the burdens of others through acts of service. They also promoted reconciliation and worked to bring disparate sections of society together.

The organisation suffered a progressive decline in membership and closure of branches during the later 20th century. In 2008, continued operation was ensured by dispensing with paid staff. In the 21st century, Toc H trustees have planned for it to become a stronger, voluntary movement still guided by the ethos of the original Talbot House.

This replica lantern ( a symbol of Toc H) was donated to the Townsville Toc H Branch by Cecil E. Smith.

When the branch closed, the lantern was donated to the Cathedral by the Smith Family
It is mounted on a plank from an original pew on which soldiers would have sat prior to being deployed

We are always looking for Guides, either on a weekly basis or to fill in when others are away.

Perhaps you will sit in our beautiful, peaceful Cathedral with only one or two visitors. ....

This week two tourists were walking on the Strand when they received a call to say that their friend, aged 41, had died suddenly in Victoria. They did not know why their path led them to pass the Cathedral, but they came in, lit a candle and sat for some time.

OR perhaps there will be more.....

This Tuesday there were 14 visitors for the advertised NAFA Tours.

I am a Christian 21-year-old New Zealand male, moving to Townsville soon and am wondering if it's possible for you to put a notice in your newsletter asking if anyone would be interested in having me board with them? I am very tidy, conscientious, and easy to get along with.

I will be volunteering with the Australian Institute of Marine Science for a few months before traveling to England to undertake a science PhD. I am looking for accommodation from the 25th of July until 24th of September – 2 months.

I've attached a reference from the family I recently boarded with.

Thank you so much.

Regards

Daniel Cossey

- The organ was the gift of Miss Holland, a friend of Bishop Stanton's in England, some years ago, but in the Pre-Cathedral it was unable to be allotted such a position as would do it justice.
- Yesterday, however, it was heard to great advantage, its splendid volume of tone filling the building beautifully. There is extensive seating capacity, and the Cathedral today was comfortably filled, a large proportion of the congregation being ladies.
